

PUBLISHED DAILY AND TRI-WEEKLY BY EDGAR SNOWDEN.
THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 2, 1879.

The State conservative committee has published as a campaign document the proceedings of the radiators' convention at McJannet Hall, in Richmond, last spring, and a stronger argument in favor of the conservative or debt paying party could not possibly have been printed. The document recalls all the unfavorable impressions of the objects of that convention produced by its proceedings at the time it was held, and the effect of the subsequent recollections of those who took part in it has been cumulative. The wonder that will be excited by a perusal of this document is that there should be a single conservative in the State who does not approve the action of the conservative executive committee in refusing to allow the radiators to disseminate their pernicious doctrines and prosecute their injurious plans under the guise of conservatism.

The attendance at the Fair to day was larger by several thousands than it has been on either of the preceding days, and, as the success of such exhibitions is always measured by the number of spectators, that of the Alexandria Fair may be considered as complete. The Fair, however, has real intrinsic merit; for the exhibits of live stock, poultry, farm, garden and dairy products, and of handicraft work are not only numerous but possess an excellence that wins the admiration of all beholders. The military display there this afternoon was exceedingly creditable, and was an additional attraction to the grounds.

The radicals are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to carry Ohio. They are now holding a reunion of the survivors of southern prisons at Toledo, in that State, at which are detailed the most horrible experiences of the stiff legs of Union prisoners during the war, intended and calculated to incite feelings of animosity in those who hear them against the South, and consequently against the democracy. They find that hate is the most effective ammunition they have in their magazine, and consequently avail themselves of every opportunity for using it that presents itself.

Another Indiana massacre has occurred this time in Wyoming Territory, at which the people at the agency have been butchered and the troops sent to their relief ambushed and decimated. The continual repetition of these unfortunate occurrences reflects injuriously upon the management of the Interior Department, and in no less degree upon the efficiency of General Sheridan, who has entire control and supervision of all walks of affairs among the Indians. But how can this be if "the gallant Phil" is the best Indian fighter the country has produced?

It seems that the northern radicals entertain as poor an opinion of their southern counterparts as we do; that is, judging from the way such a staunch stalwart as the Baltimore American speaks of them. That paper, after stating that the leaders of the southern republicans "could exercise but little or no influence in the difficult work of reorganizing the party in the South," says that "the lesser lights of the convention are, as a class, mere adventurers, unworthy of mention, and whose motives are palpable to every one."

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The publication of the Danville News has been suspended.

State Senator Ward, of Winchester, heretofore a reconciler, has pronounced in favor of the McCulloch bill.

Up to yesterday evening the Second Auditor reports that $8,049,470 of the old bonds had been funded. This closes the contract with the Syndicate under the terms of the McCulloch bill.

The Knights Templar commanderies of Norfolk and Portsmouth have appointed committees and are making arrangements to visit Richmond on the morning of the Grand Commemorative in November.

Several of the mercantile clubs of Richmond, have been reported recently for selling liquor on Sunday. Yesterday the case of the Commercial club was called on an indictment charging that liquor was sold on Sunday in the clubhouse in violation of the law, and argument begun.

James Alfred Jones, of Richmond, an able lawyer, writes that he abhors the proposition of the forcible re-entrance to re-construction; the courts of Virginia in order to attain their end, and adds that he deprecates the continued agitation of the State debt question as a public calamity.

The radiators and debt payers held separate conventions in Princess Anne county yesterday, for the nomination of a candidate for the House of Delegates. Rev. Joseph Hall, of the latter session, was nominated by the debt payers, and O. B. Mears was nominated by the radiators.

The jury in the case of E. J. Jackson in the Circuit Court of Louisa, for murder was discharged yesterday, failing to agree. Of the five murder cases tried at this term of the court one was solved by the jury; another was solved by the Commonwealth before argument; another resulted in conviction of murder in the first degree, and resulted in hanging. Application will be made to the Court of Appeals for a new trial for Mitchell, the one convicted.

The Electric Light at SEA.—The electric light at Coney Island having been complained of by sea captains as disturbing their reckoning, for the reason that they see so far off as to upset their ideas of position, the Hartford Courant says:

"Undoubtedly this is the light for lighthouse purposes. It penetrates fog, and cannot be hid. And ideas regarding it that ought to be at once followed up is to put up an electric light upon an ocean steamer; if it proved the success that it would no doubt prove, all would have to adopt it. Worked by the engine at no appreciable cost whatever, it would be a vast improvement in crossing the bays in fog, and would be useful at all times. We shall surely come to it, and it is only surprising how slowly these people move who have most to gain from progress."

THE FAIR.

The large crowd present yesterday, attracted by the races and Bicycle Club of Washington, was still larger to day, when pigeon flying, horse racing, and the military display, consisting of the Winchester Light Infantry, Washington Light Infantry, two companies, and the Alexandria Light Infantry, were the grand features.

Last night the main building was thronged again, mainly by the belles and beaux of the city and country, of course this includes many who have passed the ardor of youth, and have entered the confines of "Old Bachelorhood," and "Old Maids," but never mind the world could not get along without them; and many, too, who are in the "sere and yellow leaf," on the west side of the hill, who have no time to spare, for moments lost can never be regained. Nights at the fair are good for refreshment study, for them it is that Cupid's Cup is thick and sweet, operating upon the mind, exciting the heart, and procuring a desire for all sorts of sweet things—candy, ice cream, cake, and so forth, and so forth.

We noticed many things, but no pumpkin heads, as the types made us state yesterday; if we did we would not say so, for it is not always well to tell the whole truth, and nothing but the truth—in other words, asked truth.

The inscription on a cucumber five yards long, "Raised by Mrs. Anna K. (it ought to have been in the 50th year of her age) wife of A. J. K." attracted general attention, as did the little black baby, clothed in a pair of gaiters, without any teeth, labeled "Patacake," and marked first premium. It deserved it. And how the people did pass out to "Staten," where they came in sight of the boxes labeled, "Cotillions for the Manassas Cemetery," was a sight to David Crockett. "List to sight to memory dear," is a very well put in love list, but it does not operate as well in plain matter of fact, every day life. Mr. Peck's complete double action money box received some attention, from the fact that it is claimed that when placed on the mantle it fills itself. But this claim of merit must be received with a grain of salt. Mr. A. N. Hurdle's single was received with an aplomb, and at 10 o'clock the bell sounded the close of the fair for the night, and the crowd pressed out, many to dream pleasant dreams of battles fought and victories won, and others to await in awful suspense the issues of "well laid plans." For many years the matrimonial market has been very dull in this city, but who can tell, as a result of this fair, but that a heretofore languishing trade will bud and bloom into a prosperous business.

TO DAY.

At a very early hour to day the streets of the city were thronged with people wedding their way to the Fair, and by ten o'clock there was a large crowd on the grounds. At 11:30 o'clock there were between six and seven thousand present, when the Winchester Light Infantry arrived, numbering about 35 men under command of Capt. J. B. Burgess and Orderly Sergeant L. W. Cooper, headed by the Winchester brass band, escorted by the Alexandria Light Infantry, 50 strong, under command of Capt. J. B. Smith, 1st Lieutenant George M. Burgess, 2d Lieutenant E. E. Marbury, 3d Lieutenant J. W. Farrington, Orderly Sergeant Alexander McFarlane, headed by Danah's brass band of Washington. They marched to the centre of the grounds and took ranks. The marching of both companies was excellent, and the display was splendid, receiving the applause of the vast concourse that witnessed it.

At 12 o'clock, when the pigeon flying took place, all the seats on the grand stand were occupied and the main building was packed to suffocation, and at 2 o'clock the spectacle presented exceeded anything ever witnessed in Alexandria, there being not less than ten thousand on the ground, and people still coming in to droves.

At 12 o'clock a three Antwerp carrier pigeons belonging to Mr. H. P. Whitman, of Alexandria, were tossed from the judges' stand and flew directly toward. A dispatch received says they arrived at the city at Baltimore as follows: Nov. 2 and 4 at 2 p. m.; No. 3 at 2:15 p. m.

A number of other pigeons were flown, and to morrow a flight of four carrier pigeons will take place.

THE RACES.

The races commenced at 1:30 p. m. There was a trotting race of the 2:50 class, substituted for the mile race, which did not come off. The purse was $50; $10 to 1st and $10 to 2d horse. J. M. Daily entered a. g. Harry; J. T. Davis, Belle; Jerome Carter, Col. Hawood. Won by Hawood; Harry 2d.

Between the heats of the first race the foot race between 13 races, 1 of mile, took place; runs: $10; $5 to 1st, $5 to 2d, and $5 to 3d. Won by John Bryant; M. M. Lockery 2d, and Alfred Solomon 3d. This was a very amusing and exciting race, and caused much merriment.

At 3 o'clock Mr. Spencer's coral sailing from Maryland gave an exhibition of his own sailing qualities.

The second race was open for the 2:40 class—purse $100—$70 for first horse, $20 for 1st second, and $10 for third. J. E. Robinson entered Trump; L. H. Lodge, Star Pilot, and J. T. Bailey, Belle. Won by Star Pilot; Trump second.

The last and most exciting race, a running race. Purse $100, $70 to 1st, $20 to 2d and $10 to 3d. G. O. Nelson entered Alice J. McGarr, Bob Martin, and R. G. Cunningham. Won by McGarr in two heats, with Bob Martin 2d.

MILITARY REVIEW.

At half past four o'clock Company A, Washington Light Infantry Corps, 60 strong, under command of Capt. W. G. Moore, First Lieut. W. M. Dalton, Second Lieut. D. R. Ross, and Orderly Sergeant J. M. Bassett, headed by Weber's full brass band, and escorted by the Alexandria Light Infantry, entered the grounds, bringing with them a large crowd to swell the vast throng already present. They presented, as this company always does, a splendid appearance.

At half past five a grand military review took place in the presence of at least fifteen thousand people.

After the military review the visiting soldiers were marched to the armory of the Alexandria Light Infantry, where a splendid banquet was spread for them by the Alexandria Light Infantry, where there were speaking and feasting to the heart's content.
